

What is Brazil's first large-scale energy storage system?

Brazil launched on Thursday its first large-scale energy storage system with a total capacity of 30 MW, power sector regulator Aneel announced.

Does Brazil have a battery energy storage system?

Not much in terms of full or mass scale deployment of battery energy storage systems in Brazil has been done. The South American country is one of the many developing countries lagging behind in terms of the rollout of utility-scale battery energy storage systems.

What is Brazil's largest battery storage project?

Further details about Brazil's largest battery storage project to date have been revealed including its integrators and equipment providers. The inauguration of the 30MW/60MWh system took place last year, on the networks of transmission system operator (TSO) ISO CTEEP, as reported by Energy-Storage.news in November.

How will a battery energy storage system help Companhia Energetica de Brasilia?

The system will provide the utility's substations with power for about 10 hours in the event of a power cut. This will in turn help improve Companhia Energetica de Brasilia's customer services to some 990,000 consumers. Last month, ANEEL pre-approved 23 of 29 proposals for battery energy storage pilots, reported the Business News Americas.

Is ISO CTEEP the first large-scale battery energy storage system?

ISO CTEEP claimed it as the first large-scale battery energy storage system (BESS) on Brazil's transmission grid. The project required a total US$27 million investment. The transmission operator is permitted by regulations to earn up to US$5 million revenues from the asset each year.

Why is the energy industry slowing down in Brazil?

According to the Lexology, lack of capital and the absence of a strong regulatory framework governing the adoption, usage and management of renewable energies and battery energy storage technologies has resulted in the slow pace of growth of the landscape in Brazil.
